

Assessment Tomorrow

Conference

e-Vocational - 2014

“Responding to FELTAG – Technology and the Future Requirements for Assessment and Qualifications”

19th November 2014 – Hilton Leeds City Centre

Early bird discount for bookings before 1st October

About this the 7th e-Vocational Conference

This the 7th e-vocational conference from Assessment Tomorrow comes at a key moment in the development of e-assessment in the wider vocational context. The response to the FELTAG report is clear –

.....” We will work with Ofqual, Awarding organisations, employers and learners to identify sectors for which online assessment will be particularly suitable, and develop a programme to increase its use..... It is quite plausible that in certain sectors we may be able to set targets higher than the 50% FELTAG has suggested”

Government Response to the recommendations from the Further Education Learning Technology Action Group (FELTAG), BIS, June 2014

The conference speakers will develop their thinking on the Government’s response to FELTAG, looking at the key issues that will need to be addressed if the aspirations of the FELTAG report are to be realised.

As in previous conferences, an expert set of speakers will discuss the issues and look at their experiences delivering technology enabled qualifications in the vocational, technical and professional sphere. They will examine the issues and attempt to predict how technology will develop over the next few years and, as importantly, its impact on assessment and on the management of the assessment process.

This conference is an ideal opportunity to begin sharing the issues.

Speakers:

- Awarding Organisations
- Colleges
- Training Providers
- Assessment Software Providers
- Agencies

Focus:

Speakers will examine the management, control, and organisation required for the effective use of e-Assessment and related technologies and techniques in Technical, Vocational and Professional Education, Training and Qualifications in the context of the FELTAG recommendations and the Government’s response.

Venue:

Hilton Leeds City Centre
Neville Street,
Leeds
LS1 4BX,
0113 244 2000

Early bird discount for bookings before 1st October

Programme

0830 onwards	Registration
0915	Welcome and opening address
0930	FELTAG - The Challenges and Options for Awarding Organisations and Providers
1115	The Management of e-Assessment – planning, organising and controlling – delivery and development – is 50% realistic?
1245	Lunch
1345	How current experience might help drive the agenda
1500	Meeting the Expectations of Learners and Stakeholders
1600	Closing Address - Chair

NB: The programme and speakers are subject to confirmation.

Venue: Hilton Leeds City, Neville Street, Leeds, LS1 4BX,

Who Attends the Conference?

Awarding Organisations and Assessment Providers, Central/Regional Government, Education Agencies and Authorities, Senior Managers in Centres – Colleges, Training Providers, and Adult Learning, Education, Training and Qualification Policy Makers, Awarding Organisations and Assessment Providers and Content Developers, providers and e-Learning Publishers

To book: e-Vocational 2014, Hilton Leeds City, Neville Street, Leeds, 19th November 2014

Name

Organisation

Address

Postcode

Telephone Number

Email

Registration Fees £190() per delegate. Early bird discount before 1st October £160 () per delegate (*) plus VAT at the prevailing rate.

Your purchase order number :

Address for invoices if different from above:

Please indicate any special dietary requirements:

Electronically: www.e-vocational.co.uk FAX the form to: +44 (0) 1992 448588

Post: Assessment Tomorrow, 5 St Catherine's Road, BROXBORNE, EN10 7LG, UK

See www.assessmenttomorrow.com for Terms and Conditions (including Data Protection policy).

Contact Assessment Tomorrow on +44 (0) 20 3617 1580 or Email: info@assessmenttomorrow.com

v1.0 050714